HONOURING ROB'S LEGACY

The Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon, in partnership with Clarion stands as a living tribute to Rob's extraordinary legacy. It is a day where we come together, not only to challenge ourselves physically but also to honour the spirit of a true hero who taught us all the importance of courage, compassion and never giving up hope.

Rob bravely shared his journey with MND, using his platform to raise awareness. Alongside his lifelong friend and former teammate Kevin Sinfield CBE, Rob embarked on a campaign to raise funds for research and to improve the lives of those living with MND and their families.

On Sunday 11th May, we run in his name, carrying his indomitable spirit with every stride.

The MND Association's Director of Income Generation, Jo Coker said: "The Association is proud to be a charity partner for the Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon for the third year.

"This year feels especially poignant as we remember and pay tribute to our late patron Rob Burrow, who did so much to raise funds and awareness of MND, for which we will be forever grateful.

The 4Ed Foundation was created after Ed Slater, former professional Gloucester & Leicester Tigers rugby player, was diagnosed with Motor Neurone Disease, with the goal of supporting anyone affected by MND. The foundation provides essential resources and financial assistance through grants to support where necessary, prioritising quick and effective distribution. With 88p of every £1 donated going directly to families, your donation maximises its impact.

We are proud to be a partner of the Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon in partnership with Clarion, continuing Sam's incredible legacy and supporting the MND community. Every runner crossing the finish line has a story and we would like to thank everyone fighting for a cure for MND. Good luck to everyone taking part.

"A huge thank you to all our Team Macmillan runners taking part in the Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon and Leeds Half Marathon! Your support will help provide vital services to those living with cancer in Leeds and across the UK.

Macmillan is committed to being there for everyone from the moment they receive their diagnosis. We want to help them find their best way through and help everyone live life as fully as they can.

Each year, over 150 children in Yorkshire are diagnosed with cancer. When a child is diagnosed, lives are turned upside down instantly: not just for the child but the entire family. Getting well again can be a long and challenging journey, emotionally, physically, and financially. Supporting children and families throughout that journey is why our charity, Candlelighters, was formed more than 40 years ago.

By joining team Alzheimer's Society, you have helped fund vital support and research into life-changing dementia treatments. Alzheimer's Society are backing the world's brightest minds and funding over 600 research projects to find the best ways to get an early diagnosis, innovate care and develop targeted treatments.

Happy Days UK provides life-changing support for people who are homeless or in crisis, offering not just immediate relief but a pathway to lasting stability. Our Winter Shelter is a lifeline, operating from October to March with safe, warm accommodation, meals, and specialist support.

Funds raised at this year's Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon will help the Leeds Rhinos Foundation provide vital opportunities, including social support for people with dementia, physical activity for adults with Parkinson's, and sports and employment opportunities for young people with disabilities.

St Gemma's Hospice is an independent charity and has been providing expert care to the people of Leeds for almost years. In the last year alone we have supported over 3,000 local people.

Every 17 minutes, someone in Yorkshire is told they have cancer. Together, we can change this. It's thanks to the Changemakers: the supporters, the researchers, the people with cancer who, for 100 years, have united in one goal - a Yorkshire free from cancer. Together we've brought a century of breakthroughs, progress and life-saving discoveries to Yorkshire, and beyond.

We don't think anyone in our community should have to face going hungry. That's why we provide three days' nutritionally balanced emergency food and support to local people who are referred to us in crisis. We are part of a nationwide network of foodbanks, supported by The Trussell Trust, working to combat poverty and hunger across the UK.

MARATHON NUTRITION GUIDE

WWW.HIGHFIVE.CO.UK

If you're tackling a marathon, you will have trained hard for months to get in great shape and ready to line up at the start of those 26.2 miles. One of the critical pieces in the marathon puzzle is your race-day nutrition strategy...

THE FUELLING FACTS

During a marathon, more than two thirds of your energy can come from carbohydrate. Unfortunately your body is only able to store a limited amount of carbohydrate and as the miles tick by, you will deplete that store. As your carb levels fall, so does your energy, and you will find it harder to maintain your early pace. You could even hit the dreaded 'wall' — where your carb stores are so depleted that your muscles are forced to rely almost exclusively on fat as fuel.

The body finds it hard to convert fat to energy, which makes it tough to keep running at any pace. To ensure you have optimum carbohydrate levels on race day, you should carbo load in the days leading up to your event and consume carbohydrate during the Marathon. Visit www.highfive.co.uk for more information on carbo loading.

DURING YOUR MARATHON

Think of your body's store of carbohydrate as a relatively small fuel tank, that starts emptying as you start running. Your muscles use carbohydrate quickly and can easily deplete that store during a Marathon. If you provide your muscles with carbohydrate by consuming gel as you run, they will take less fuel from your carbohydrate store and it will last longer. The purpose of taking gel during your marathon is to delay the point at which you run out of fuel — until you cross the finish line.

Taking too much gel too quickly can and will cause stomach problems. By contrast, taking just a couple of gels at the 17 mile mark, as some people do, will only provide a short lived energy boost. Taking 2 or 3 gels every hour from the very start of your event is optimum and will mean that by mile 17, you should still have enough carbohydrate energy available for a strong finish.

RACE DAY BREAKFAST

Breakfast should be light and high in carbs. Cereals, toast and porridge are good options. Drink 500ml of HIGH5 Energy Drink for additional carbs and to stay well hydrated. Take a HIGH5 Energy Bar with you to eat on the way to your race.

NOVICE RUNNERS

If you weigh more than 55kg: 15 minutes before the start take two HIGH5 Energy Gel Aqua Caffeine sachets and drink 200 to 300ml of water or HIGH5 ZERO.

If you weigh less than 55kg: 15 minutes before the start take two HIGH5 Energy Gel Aqua sachets (no caffeine) and drink 200 to 300ml of water or ZERO.

DURING YOUR RUN: take one Energy Gel Aqua Caffeine sachet every 30 minutes. Wait until 30 minutes from the start of your race before taking your first sachet.

If you are on-course for a long time, only use Energy Gel Aqua Caffeine for the first 4 1/2 hours of running, then switch to standard Energy Gel Aqua (without caffeine) for the remainder of your run. Use a HIGH5 Race Belt to carry your gels.

EXPERIENCED RUNNERS

15 minutes before the start take two Energy Gel Aqua Caffeine sachets (with caffeine) and drink 200 to 300ml of water or ZERO.

DURING YOUR RUN: Take one gel sachet every 20 minutes during your run (3 per hour). Wait until 20 minutes into your race before taking your first sachet. Depending on bodyweight, there is a maximum number of Energy Gel Aqua Caffeine sachets you can take. Any additional gels you consume should be standard Energy Gel Aqua (without caffeine). Your bodyweight: Max Energy Gel Aqua Caffeine sachets:

50kg: 5 during + 2 before 60kg: 7 during + 2 before 70kg: 8 during + 2 before 80kg: 9 during + 2 before 90kg: 10 during + 2 before

If you find that 3 gels an hour is too much, try and consume as many gels as you comfortably can. Practicing using gel during longer training runs makes it easier to use on race day. You can use Energy Gel instead of Energy Gel Aqua depending on personal preference they perform the same function.

FLUIDS

Your fluid needs will depend on how warm the weather is on race day and how much you sweat. Try to drink water or the on-course drink regularly. If you use the on-course drink, take care not to consume too much additional carbohydrate from that drink or you will need to adjust your gel intake. In very hot conditions you may need additional electrolytes. Individual ZERO tabs can be wrapped in Cling Film and carried on your run. Simply put the tab into the on-course water to make a refreshing electrolyte drink. ZERO does not contain carbohydrate.

AFTER YOU FINISH

Drink 400ml of HIGH5 Recovery Drink as soon as you finish. Drink another 400ml one hour later and eat a balanced meal as soon as possible.

CAFFEINE NOTE

Caffeinated products are not suitable for children and pregnant or breastfeeding Women. If you do not wish to use caffeine for any reason, simply follow the guidelines using gel without caffeine.

AVAILABLE -ON COURSE

Water and refreshing natural fruit juices give Energy Gel Aqua its extremely light consistency when delivering carbohydrates straight to your muscles during exercise.

ZERO

A refreshing, great tasting sugar free sports drink with the key electrolytes of sodium, magnesium and potassium that you gives you what water can't on your run.

INSPIRING STORIES

Meet Andrew. This year, he's taking on the Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon in partnership with Clarion, running to raise awareness and funds for the Motor Neurone Disease Association.

Motor Neurone Disease (MND) is a devastating condition that affects the nerves in the brain and spinal cord - the motor neurones. These nerves carry messages that control muscle movement. As MND progresses, these messages stop reaching the muscles, causing them to weaken, stiffen, and waste away. This can affect everything from walking and talking to eating, drinking, and even breathing.

As a passionate rugby fan, Andrew closely followed Rob Burrow's journey with MND. The story hit close to home - Rob was just two weeks older than Andrew and, like him, a father to three children of similar ages. "Thinking about how I'd feel if my wife and kids had to go through what Rob's family has endured really stopped me in my tracks," Andrew shared. "When Rob sadly passed, his courage and powerful final message in the BBC documentary moved me deeply. That's when I knew I had to do something."

Inspired by Rob's words – "Whatever your personal battle, be brave and face it. In a world full of adversity, we must still dare to dream." – Andrew committed to running the marathon, determined to honour Rob's legacy and support those affected by MND.

Teamwork makes the dream work: introducing the Leeds Marathon Relay

Share the challenge and celebrate together.

An exciting addition to the 2025 Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon, is the introduction of the Marathon Relay. After proving popular at the Yorkshire Marathon time and time again, the format offers a fantastic opportunity for teams of second individuals to experience the thrill of the Marathon while sharing the physical challenge.

Each team member will run a designated leg of the 26.2-mile course, allowing friends, family or colleagues to participate together and contribute to the collective effort. The Marathon Relay fosters teamwork, camaraderie and a shared sense of accomplishment.

Making the Marathon experience more accessible to those who may not be ready to tackle the full distance on their own, it's a chance to be part of the electric event day atmosphere and contribute to fundraising goals in a collaborative way.

MND MILE

United in purpose - every step counts

A brand-new addition for 2025, the MND Mile, taking place on Saturday 10th May at Leeds Beckett University's Headingley Campus, is set to embody the spirit of inclusivity and community that defines the entire Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon weekend and gives the perfect opportunity for a warm up exercise ahead of the big event on the Sunday.

The accessible one-mile event will provide an opportunity for individuals of all ages and abilities to participate in the fundraising efforts and show their support. With an atmosphere set to be nothing but heartwarming, families and friends are encouraged to come together to walk, jog or wheel their way around the course, aiming to be a powerful demonstration of solidarity and a chance for everyone to be part of the event, regardless of their fitness level.

EVENT DAY TIPS BY

We asked our official training partner Coopah Run Coach for their Top Tips on how to manage pre race nerves...

HOW TO HANDLE PRE RACE NERVES

After months of hard work, you have finally made it to race week! The miles have been logged, and in just a few days time you will be standing on that start line. Hopefully you are starting to feel excited, but you may also be starting to feel pretty nervous, but if you are, don't worry - this is completely normal (and it just means that you care!)

REMEMBER YOUR WHY

Everyone has a reason to run - perhaps you want to finally tick a marathon off your bucket list, or perhaps you are raising money for a charity that means a lot to you. Whatever your reason, when you start to feel nervous, use this as a reason to remind yourself why you are running and how proud of yourself you will be when you cross that finish line!

TRUST YOUR TRAINING

It can be very easy for that self doubt to start creeping in as you approach race day, but use this time to focus on what went well during your training. The runs you felt strong, the runs you really enjoyed or perhaps the tough runs that you still completed and overcame! Remind yourself that you can do hard things, and that ultimately the race is just your final victory lap!

And finally, it sounds simple... but take a step back and keep reminding yourself that it's just a run! And no different to any of your other training runs. For 99.9% of us we aren't doing this to break world records, we run because we love it and enjoy it!

So take the pressure off yourself, remember you why and get out there and have some fun!

Team Coopah x

BE PREPARED

In the final days leading up to the race, make sure you get everything ready ahead of time. Our top tip would be to create a checklist of everything you need for the race and make sure you check, check and check again! The last thing you want on the morning of the race is to realise you have forgotten your trainers! By getting everything organised ahead of time, that gives you one less thing to worry about and you can then focus on getting enough sleep, fuelling well and getting ready for race day!

Make your day hassle-free and book your Park and Ride tickets now to avoid disappointment.

INSPIRING STORIES

Meet Steven. Steven is raising vital funds for MND Scotland — a cause that has become deeply personal.

On 9th February 2024, Steven's mum, Barbara, passed away at the age of 70. Her diagnosis with Motor Neuron Disease (MND) came just eight months earlier, marking the beginning of an incredibly painful and challenging chapter for Steven and his family.

Barbara had begun experiencing memory issues and anxiety in her late 60s, leading to several tests and an initial Alzheimer's diagnosis in June 2023. Life took another difficult turn in early 2024, when Steven's dad suddenly passed away due to heart complications. Shortly after, Barbara moved into a care home in Glasgow. During her early days there, a neurological consultation revealed a more complex and devastating truth she had frontotemporal dementia with MND. In less than a year, Steven and his family endured the unimaginable — the loss of both parents and the emotional weight of witnessing the rapid progression of a cruel, terminal illness. Watching his mum decline, experiencing the pain it caused her and everyone around her, has left a lasting impact.

"There's nothing that prepares you for it," Steven says. "MND is relentless. It takes so much, so quickly."

This marathon isn't just a race. For Steven, it's a tribute. It's a way to honour Barbara's strength, raise awareness of MND, and support others facing the same journey. Every mile is a step toward hope, a stand against this cruel disease, and a deeply personal act of remembrance.

INSPIRING STORIES

Meet Steven. He is running the Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon in partnership Clarion and raising money for MND Scotland.

Steven's mum, Barbara, passed away on the 9th February 2024. She was 70, and had been diagnosed with Motor Neuron Disease (MND) only 8 months previously.

After she experienced some challenges with her memory and anxiety in her late 60s, she went for various tests and was originally diagnosed with Alzheimer's in June 2023. Barbara took up residence in a local care home in Glasgow in April 2024 following Steven's Dad's sudden death from heart complications. It was during her initial time there that a Neurologist appointment revealed she had frontotemporal Dementia, which carried with it MND.

The last year has been a very challenging time for Steven and his extended family. They have had to watch the impact of MND on both parents (both individually and collectively) and witnessed his Mum go through this rapidly progressing terminal illness, experiencing the pain it caused both her and all her loved ones. It's a cruel disease and nothing prepares you for it.

ROSIE JONES & IVO GRAHAM ON A MISSION FOR A NEW MARATHON PB!

After last year's London Marathon, long time friends Rosie & Ivo caught the marathon bug and have joined forces once again. On a mission to smash their current marathon PB of 3:36:00, this time they're taking it north to the Rob Burrow Leeds Marathon.

Ivo will push Rosie, arguably the loudest participant to ever take part in a marathon, in a Delta buggy, determined to finish in 3:15:00. It's a particularly special event for Rosie, marking the first fundraiser for her newly launched foundation. The Rosie Jones Foundation. The foundation is on a mission to empower lives and change minds to create a world in which no person living with cerebral palsy feels alone or unheard. Initially, they will focus on creating community through events and opportunities to meet other people with cerebral palsy in person, as well as, connecting people to appropriate, tailored mental health support. You can learn more about it at rosiejonesfoundation. com or follow them on instagram @ rosiejonesfoundation.

Ivo continues his long term support for MS Society UK to provide invaluable resources and support for those living with MS. From investing in crucial research to supporting access to treatment and community. Ivo's mother has MS and his work with MS Society UK continues to be some of his proudest work. You can learn more about how Rosie and Ivo's collaboration came to be in Ivo's upcoming book, Yardsticks For Failure: An Adventure In Friendship and Fluster, which comes out on 22nd May.

An estimated 160,000 people are living with cerebral palsy (CP) in the UK and an increased estimate of 150,000 people are living with multiple sclerosis (MS). Rosie and Ivo connected through their shared lived experiences with CP and MS. Rosie is amongst 4% of people in the UK who have ataxic cerebral palsy and Ivo's mother has multiple sclerosis. Though the conditions impact roughly the same number of people in the UK. the level of awareness is often not the same and Rosie and Ivo are determined to change this through their collaboration.

The key message Rosie and Ivo are determined to share is that no matter the condition, it is unequivocally about focusing on the individual and not defining people by their conditions and/or difference in ability, but rather seeing them for the person they are and creating a society that not only supports, but celebrates everyone.

INSPIRING STORIES

This is Barinderjit Cheema also known as Usingh Bolt. He is originally from Gateshead and now lives in Walshall in Greater Manchester.

He has undertaken a fantastic running challenge. This is to run 50 50Ks before he turns 50 years old in November 2025. The first 50K was on his 49th birthday and all being well, his final run in this challenge before he turns 50.

In addition to the 50Ks, he will be also participating in a number of half marathons and marathons to fundraise for Teenage Cancer Trust.

Teenage Cancer Trust offers unique care and support, designed for and with young people who have got cancer. They fund specialised nurses, youth workers and hospital units with the NHS, so young people have dedicated staff and facilities to support them throughout the treatment.

He currently works in Aldi and Teenage Cancer Trust is one of their partners.

Barinderjit said, "For my last big challenge, I want to raise as much money as I can for this amazing charity. The work they do to support those with cancer in their teenage years, which are not easy at the best of times, is incredible".

Shout out to the runners, the cheer squads, the volunteers the whole marathon crew. You're all incredible. Good luck from Clarion!

LEEDS MARATHON RECOVERY TIPS

LEEDS BECKETT UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF HEALTH

Marathons are a huge test of physical and mental resilience so getting yourself to the end is an amazing achievement regardless of your time. The journey doesn't stop at that finish line, recovery is key and should be treated with the same focus and attention as your training. The Sport and Exercise Therapy staff and students at Leeds Beckett University provided some key recovery considerations below.

RECOGNISE

Twenty-six miles is hard work. The energy expenditure is enormous and the first thing in your recovery should be recognising this. On average people will expend between 2,200 and 3,200 kilocalories during a marathon regardless of pace. It is, therefore, no wonder you will feel physically and mentally drained, sore, stiff and everything else in the days that follow.

PLAN

Fail to prepare, prepare to fail. The old saying rings true here. If you make time to factor in and plan your recovery sessions you are more likely to do them and have a consistent and effective recovery process. Get your calendar out and spot the opportunities to get the aching limbs gently moving and engaging in your recovery activities.

REFUEL

You will need to consume your macronutrients relative to age, weight, sex and competitive status. Your macro and micronutrients are key to repairing and rebuilding the damage muscle tissue and supporting the healing process. Rehydration is key too, for every 1kg bodyweight lost we need to drink 1.5L of water. Try to drink 500ml within 30 minutes post-race, topping up every 10 minutes until your target is reached.

REPAIR

Aim for 7-9 hours sleep and ideally at night to allow your body to work its magic and repair itself. Several modalities are also available, such as thermal therapy and sports massage, but these should be guided and implemented by qualified health professionals. Any pains and niggles should be allowed time to settle. Anything that does not settle with active rest and deloading will need professional assessment.

REFUEL

You will need to consume your macronutrients relative to age, weight, sex and competitive status. Your macro and micronutrients are key to repairing and rebuilding the damage muscle tissue and supporting the healing process. Rehydration is key too, for every 1kg bodyweight lost we need to drink 1.5L of water. Try to drink 500ml within 30 minutes post-race, topping up every 10 minutes until your target is reached.

MOVE

Gentle cyclic movements of the legs will help with circulation, nutrient delivery, and waste removal. It will also restore mobility in the aching and stiff muscles and joints. Deloading or resting from running for a couple of weeks is not going to undo your previous hard work, it will instead help you recover back to your normal state and hit the ground running in your next phase of training.

And let's not forget the 'hill climb' along the Chevin as runners make their way from mile 17 to mile 20. A long stretch of 3 miles, it's guaranteed runners will need lots of encouragement. LEEDS RELAY

'A' runners will need to be at the start line for 8:40am to participate in the mass warm up. They will be filtered into the main Marathon field behind Zone 2 runners in their dedicated zone. 'A' runners must be wearing the correct race number and have the teams 'relay baton' secured around their arm.

All other runners should wait at Cinder Moor until they are called to meet their marshal and will be transported to their respective changeover points around the route. 'B' runners should remain at Cinder Moor as this is where they will begin their leg.

All buses will be signposted, 'Bus C', 'Bus D', 'Bus E', Bus 'F' and 'Bus G' to correspond with each leg of the relay. All buses will leave from Cinder Moor.

Buses will depart promptly at the specified times due to the strict road closures in place. Please ensure you are on time as buses will depart whether all runners are on board or not at these specified times.

Returning Buses

'B', 'C', 'D', 'E' and 'F' runners, upon completing their leg of the race, will be directed to buses to return to Cinder Moor. Bus marshals will be on hand to guide you to your changeover points and back to your bus. Runners must take all personal possessions with them, when leaving buses, as well as any teammates' belongings.
